This comprehensive guide provides you with all the information you need to know about the different residency by investment programs available in the EU. You'll learn about the requirements, benefits, and costs of each program, so you can make an informed decision about which one is right for you.

What is residency by investment?

Residency by investment is a program that allows non-EU citizens to obtain residency in an EU country by making a significant investment in that country. The investment can be in real estate, government bonds, or other approved investments.

Residency by investment programs are becoming increasingly popular as a way for non-EU citizens to gain access to the benefits of living in the EU, such as the freedom to travel, work, and study in any EU country.

Benefits of residency by investment

There are many benefits to obtaining residency by investment in the EU, including:

- The freedom to travel, work, and study in any EU country
- Access to healthcare, education, and other social benefits
- The opportunity to live in a safe and stable country
- The potential to increase your wealth through investment

Requirements for residency by investment

The requirements for residency by investment vary from country to country. However, there are some general requirements that are common to most programs, such as:

- Being over 18 years of age
- Having a clean criminal record
- Having sufficient financial means to support yourself and your family

- Making a significant investment in the country

Costs of residency by investment

The costs of residency by investment vary depending on the country and program. However, you can expect to pay a few thousand euros in application fees, legal fees, and other expenses.

How to apply for residency by investment

The process of applying for residency by investment varies from country to country. However, there are some general steps that are common to most programs, such as:

- Choosing a country and program
- Submitting an application
- Providing supporting documents
- Paying the application fee
